12 The graph shows how the displacement of particles in a longitudinal wave varies with the position x along the wave. The wave travels towards the positive x direction. Positive displacements are taken as displacements to the right of the equilibrium position.

At the instant shown, which point along the wave has the maximum leftward velocity?

