25	Answer: A
	B field in consideration at Y is pointing upwards (only the vertical component of B field contributes to magnetic force) and B field in consideration at Z is pointing downwards (only the vertical component of B field contributes to magnetic force). Using Fleming's Left Hand Rule, force at Y is pointing out of page and force at Z is pointing into page. 