5	B	When a quarter of the cube is removed, the C.G. shift to the new geometrical centre and the weight decreases. Upthrust remains unchanged initially. Hence $U > W$ and there is a resultant force upwards. Since the upthrust and the weight are now not acting along the same line of action, there will be a resultant clockwise moment.
6	A	Constant v means net F = 0