26 Ans: C

Magnetic flux (not magnetic flux linkage) is the same for all the coil connected by the soft-iron ring. The flux density is greatest when the area is the least as $\phi = BA$. Note that the number of turns N in the coils will affect the induced emf but not the magnetic flux density within the soft iron core.