

	a curve.
16	D i. The speed at point P is zero, not maximum.

	ii. The displacement at any point, including point Q, varies sinusoidally with time, thus it is not always zero. iii. The energy at point R is entirely potential, not kinetic. iv. The acceleration at point S is a maximum since displacement is maximum. $a = -\omega^2 x$
17	D