

$$r = 4.0 \text{ } \Omega$$

23 And: B

Direction of E-field = direction of force acting on a positive charge placed at that position.
This is taken to be a tangent if the field line is a curve.

Thus force acts on the electron (a negative charge) in the opposite direction along the tangent drawn at X.

24 Ans: B