

	same as that of the steady d.c.
27.	Ans: D Some of the magnetic field lines produced by the primary coil do not link well with the secondary coil, reducing the e.m.f. induced in the secondary coil. The presence of iron core maximises the flux linkage between the primary and secondary coils.
28	Ans: B