

2. Ans: B

For the rod to be in equilibrium, the 3 forces acting on the rod should extrapolate and intercept at a common point.

The 3 forces should form a vector triangle with the forces pointing in a single direction.

3. Ans: B