

		radiation.
19	C	Option A is the definition of electric potential not electric field strength. Option B is incorrect because the potential gradient is the electric field strength, hence a vector quantity. Option C is correct. Option D is about potential difference not potential gradient.
20	D	The acceleration on the electron is constant under the influence of the uniform E field