

|   |   |                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|---|---|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 6 | C | A body in equilibrium and acted on by three forces ( $R$ , $W$ and tension in the thread), the line of action of these three forces must pass through a common point. Only option C is correct. |
| 7 | C | (A) While the direction of the velocity of the ball can change after bouncing, the                                                                                                              |