

Qn	Ans	Suggested solution
1	D	Option A does not affect the driver's reading of the car's speed. Option B causes a systematic error. Option C causes a systematic error. Option D causes a parallax error, which is a random error.
2	A	Vertical acceleration is directly proportional to vertical resultant force