

	equipotential lines.
18.	Ans: A At point P there would be a rightward electric field due to the positive charge, and a rightward electric field due to the negative charge. Hence the net electric field will be towards the negative charge. The net electric potential is positive as it is of equal distance to both charges but the positive particle has a larger charge.
19.	Ans: D