

		ing error.
2	C	A implies large random error. B implies non-ohmic conductor. C Graph should be a straight line passing through the origin if no systematic error. D implies a possible error in the experiment (one data point)
2	B	Estimation of values required: