1 A quantity X is measured many times. A graph is plotted showing the number of times n a particular value of X is obtained. The true value of X is x_0.

Which graph could be obtained if the measurement of X has a large systematic error but a small random error?

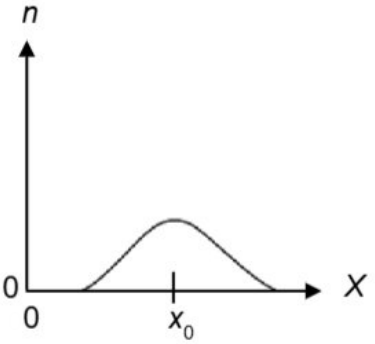

A

B

C

D

