17 The temperature of an ideal gas can be changed by either changing its volume or placing it in an environment with a different surrounding temperature compared to the temperature of the ideal gas.

Which scenario must result in an increase in the temperature of the ideal gas?

	volume of gas	surrounding temperature
A	increase	higher
B	increase	lower
C	decrease	higher
D	decrease	lower