18 Objects A and B are in thermal equilibrium with each other.

Which statement may not be correct?

A The two objects are at the same temperature.

B The two objects have the same internal energy.

C There is no net heat transfer between the two objects when in contact.

D Particles within the two objects have the same mean random kinetic energy.

19 The diagram shows the electric field lines between two isolated point charges X and Y. The