

		difference in the characteristic spectrum and hence there is no change in λ_2 .
	29	A Majority of the particles will still pass through without deviation. Although the charge of the gold nucleus is the same, the probability of head on interaction remains approximately the same and atom consists mainly of empty space.
	30	A X and Z are more stable than Y. Hence, the binding energy per nucleon of X should