

	This is equivalent to option A.
3	C Constant speed up to t_1 means s increases at a constant rate, hence a straight line with positive gradient. As speed decreases at constant rate, distance travelled increases at a decreasing rate (decreasing gradient) and reaches a constant (zero gradient) when speed is zero.
4	D