

independent of the intensity.

30

A

The diagram shows that most of the alpha particles passed through the gold foil undeflected or deflected by small angles.

This indicates that the size of the nucleus relative to the size of the atom is small, as most alpha particles interacting with the gold atoms were not close enough to the nucleus to experience significant electrical repulsion and hence, were only deflected by small angles or remain undeflected.

~ THE END ~