

16	C	Oil is more viscous than water hence has a greater damping effect on the oscillating mass compared to water. With greater damping, the frequency response curve when the mass is in oil will have smaller amplitudes at all frequencies and the frequency at which resonance occurs will be smaller.
17	D	