

29 Ans: C

Photon of wavelength 275 nm has 4.52 eV of energy. Copper will not have any emission.

Sodium having the smallest work function will release photoelectrons with greatest kinetic energy.

Sodium will require the largest stopping voltage. The stopping voltage is the value of V such that the photocurrent $I = 0$ (x-intercept).

30 Ans: A