

2(a) (i)

1m for correct graph P

1m for correct graph K

(ii) 1m for correct graph F

Explanation:

Some potential energy lost will be converted to do work against friction [1], hence the gain in kinetic energy will be less as compared to the situation without friction. [1]

3(a) momentum after elastic collision $= -mu$ [1]