

		repulsive force and hence can deviate at large angle
30	C	A beta decay will result in no change of nucleon number and +1 in proton number. A alpha decay will result in -4 in nucleon number and +2 in proton number. Hence the new particle will have nucleon number of 234 and proton number of 91. Hence its neutron number will be 143.