

- 6 A big ice cube is placed in a small glass of water. The level of water in the glass is marked. When the ice cube melts completely, what is the overall water level?
- A The overall water level will rise above the mark.
 - B The overall water level will fall below the mark.
 - C The overall water level will stay the same.
 - D The overall water level cannot be determined with the information provided.