

29 ANS: D

The inference from most α - particles passed through the foil undeflected is that the diameter of the nucleus is much less than the diameter of the atom.