

Q9 Ans: B

Gravitational field lines are perpendicular to the equipotential lines and points from higher potential towards lower potential lines.

Magnitude of gravitational field strength can be determined by the potential gradient. ($g = -\frac{d\phi}{dr}$)

At point Y, the potential gradient is larger than that at point Z. (distance between potential lines at Y is smaller than that of Z)

Q10 Ans: B