

|           |          |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
|-----------|----------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|           |          | the edge of a metal plate.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| 18 | B | P, R and Q are positions of nodes. The second mode of harmonics (first overtone) is formed in the string. Particles in adjacent loops have a phase difference of $180^\circ$ . Since the distance of S and T from the node are equal, the two particles have the same amplitude. |
| 19 | B | Location of neutral point cannot be between the two charges as they have                                                                                                                                                                                                         |