

		$E_p \text{ at } 2r = -\frac{\quad}{2R} = -3.2 \text{ MJ}$
9	B	Since they have the same volume and pressure initially, they must have the same T . Therefore when the partition is removed, the P and T remains the same.
10	B	Since temperature is the same, the average kinetic energy is the same.