

15	C	Since the wave pulse is travelling to the right, the last point on the displacement time graph will be the first point on the displacement position graph. Correspondingly, the first point on the displacement time graph will be the last point on the displacement position graph. The sequence follows through for the points in between.
16	A	As the light passes through the first sheet half of the intensity of the light is lost