

29	A	When the potential difference is decreased, the energy of the most energetic x-ray photon decreases. Hence, minimum wavelength increases. The probability of the incoming electron knocking off the innermost electrons decreases, hence the intensity of the peaks also decreases.
30	D	λ is associated with the equation $\lambda = \lambda_M$